LADIES' WATCHES.

AS a SOUVENIR there is nothing that a Lady appreciates better than a GENUINE GOOD WATCH. The better the class of Watch the longer will the Receiver have reason to remember the Donor. The main object, therefore, of a Souvenir can only have the fullest effect when the Article presented is of unquestionable good Manufacture. A so-called cheap Watch, or a substitute for a well-manufactured Watch, would vitiate entirely the idea and intentions that a Souvenir carries; and, indeed, it is not fair to impose on the recipient by the presentation of a Watch of doubtful make, not only a great deal of trouble and inconvenience, but the expense that keeping such a Watch in order would entail.

We Guarantee that the PRESENTATION WATCHES offered by us will keep the most excellent time and wear well for and longer if reasonable good care be taken of them and if they are periodically overhauled by a practical Watchmaker, once in two, or most three years, after about which time a Watch invariably requires cleaning.

BAHADUR CIGARS.

SIX ANSWERS TO ONE QUESTION!!

Q.—Why are BAHADUR Cigars the Leading Brand in India?

A. 1.—BECAUSE they are Manufactured under the Supervision of EUROPEAN EXPERTS.
2.—BECAUSE only the CHOICEST TOBACCOS are used in their Manufacture.
3.—BECAUSE they are Loosely rolled, and draw Freely.
4.—BECAUSE the Delicacy of their Flavor approaches that of a Real HAVANA.
5.—BECAUSE they are Uniform in Quality, and can always be Relied on.
6.—BECAUSE the General Public say with one accord that they are the Very Best, and what everybody says must be True.

"KEATING'S LOZENGES."
"KEATING'S LOZENGES."

"A Simple fact about" KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES. Ask throughout the world, in any country that can be named, you will find them largely sold. There is absolutely no remedy that is so speedy in giving relief, so certain to cure, and yet the most delicate can take them.

"A TERRIBLE COUGH."
"A TERRIBLE COUGH."

"94, Commercial Road, Peckham, July 12.

"Dear Sir,—I am a poor hand at expressing my feelings, but I should like to thank you. Your Lozenges have done wonders in relieving my terrible Cough. Since I had the operation of 'Tracheotomy,' (the same as the late Emperor of Germany, and unlike him, thank God, I am still alive) performed at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, no one could possibly have had a more violent cough; it was so bad at times that it quite exhausted me. The mucus, which was very copious and hard, has been softened, and I have been able to get rid of it without difficulty.—I am, Sir, yours truly, J. HILL."

UTTERLY UNRIVALLED.
UTTERLY UNRIVALLED.

The above speaks for itself. From strict inquiry it appears that the benefit from using Keating's Cough Lozenges is understated. The operation was a specially severe one, and was performed by the Specialist, Dr. H. T. Butlin, of St. Bartholomew's Hospital. Since the operation the only means of relief is the use of these Lozenges. So successful are they that one affords immediate benefit, although from the nature of the case the throat irritation is intense.

WEIGHT IN GOLD.
WEIGHT IN GOLD.

Under date Sept. 8th, 1891, Mr. Hill again writes: "I should long since have been dead, but for your Lozenges—THEY ARE WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD. I will gladly see and tell anyone what a splendid Cough remedy they are.

Keating's Cough Lozenges, the Unrivalled Remedy for COUGH, HOARSENESS and THROAT TROUBLES, are sold in Bottles by All Chemists.

FOUND DROWNED.—About nine o'clock, yesterday morning, the dead body of a Seedee, apparently aged about forty-five years, wrapped in a cotton cloth from head to foot, and with two stones tied at the waist and feet, was observed floating on the surface of the water in the sea, off the Victoria Bunder, by a ramosee doing duty there. The police were informed, and the body was brought to the shore. Information was circulated throughout the town, but no one came forward to identify the body, which was subsequently conveyed to the morgue. The body which was in an advanced state of decomposition, apparently bore no marks of violence. Mr. Allan F. Turner, the coroner, held an inquest at the morgue, in the afternoon, when the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

THE POPAT WADI MONKEY.—A correspondent writes:—Why have no steps yet been taken by the authorities concerned to get rid of the wild monkey, who has been causing so much annoyance to the public located at Chira Bazar and its adjoinings for the last week. Yesterday a young Parsee lad was attacked at Wanka Mohala, but fortunately he was soon rescued from the danger of being violently injured. I thought from an article that appeared on the 19th instant that the authorities must have been doing their best to put a stop to this fright, but nothing appears to have been done by them. From the subsequent mischief done by this mad beast I now hope that Mr. Gell will order out his armed force to see how much time they take to capture or kill the animal.

DEATH FROM TETANUS.—An inquiry was held yesterday by Mr. Turner, the coroner, at the J. J. Hospital, on view of the body of Noormahomed Rahimtoola, a Mahomedan mendicant, aged eighty years. The deceased, whose right side was paralysed, used to beg about the streets and slept in the Memons' Jamat Khana, at Kolsa Moholla. About twenty days ago Noormahomed was coming out of the Jamatkhana, when he accidentally stepped on a piece of glass, sustaining a penetrating wound on the heel of the right foot. About five days subsequently, the whole of the right leg became swollen and he complained of great pain. He was conveyed to the J. J. Hospital, where tetanus developed, and fever set in. He never rallied and died on Monday evening. A verdict of death from tetanus was returned.

FATAL RESULT OF JUVENILE PLAY.—Mr. Allan F. Turner, the coroner, held an inquest yesterday, at the Goculdas Tejpal Hospital, touching the death of Bhooralal Mathuradass, aged twelve years, the son of a Hindu grocer, residing at Bhoiwady in Kalbadavi Road. About twelve days ago the deceased was firing off some crackers, when his dhatur accidentally caught fire and he received some burns on the inner side of both thighs. The father applied some household remedies and the burns appeared to be healing. On Sunday evening, however, symptoms of lockjaw supervened and the father removed the deceased to the Goculdas Tejpal Hospital, where the tetanic spasms continued to increase, and terminated fatally yesterday morning at 4 o'clock. The jury returned a verdict of death from tetanus, following the burns received when firing off crackers.

A MEMBER OF THE GOLDEN GANG.—Before Mr. Dustoor, Third Presidency Magistrate, at the Esplanade Police Court, yesterday, Inspector Standford brought up Haridas Valji, a member of the golden gang, on a charge of cheating in respect of Rs. 12,500. Sometime ago accused was brought up along with two other persons, on a charge of criminal breach of trust and aiding and abeting each other in the commission of the offence. The two other persons were convicted and sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment each, but Haridas was on the application of the complainant's vakil, discharged to be tried on the charge of cheating. The facts of the case were that accused induced the servant of a native firm at Marwari Bazar to part with Rs, 2,500 in currency notes, on the false representation that an old man was ready to change old currency notes of Rs. 18,000 for new notes of about Rs. 13,000. The accused was given the Rs. 12,500, when some of his comrades disguised as policemen appeared on the scene, and the old man ran away with Rs. 12,500, followed by accused. Some evidence having been recorded, the case was adjourned for further hearing.

SALE OF MUNICIPAL LAND NEAR THE VICTORIA GARDENS.—Messrs. Mehrjee, Johnston and Co., auctioneers, put up to sale by public auction, on Monday last, by order of the Municipal Commissioner, eighteen plots of land belonging to the Municipality, at the New Connaught and Sussex Roads, near the Victoria Gardens. The land forms very desirable sites for building purposes and was expected to realise good prices. The result of the sale, however, has been somewhat disappointing, for the bids, except in regard to one plot, No. 5, fell short of the reserved bids. Several Municipal officers were present at the sale, among them being Khan Bahadur M. C. Murzban, C.I.E., Executive Engineer, Mr. W. Pearson, acting Chief Accountant, &c.; and Mr. Leslie Crawford, of Messrs. Crawford, Burder and Co., solicitors to the Municipality. The piece of land, No. 5, measuring 68,089 square yards, was first put up to sale at Rs. 5 per square yard, and the bid rose to Rs. 13-8-0 per square yard, at which it was knocked down to Mr. Ardesir Mehervan Erani. The other plots were bought in.

A PICK-POCKET.—Yesterday, at the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. Sanders Slater, acting Chief Presidency Magistrate, Inspector Lee-Smith charged Habib, a Mahomedan labourer, with theft of a bundle of twenty ten-rupee currency notes from the person of Shivji Premji, a Hindu. Mr. Kapadia represented the accused. The case for the prosecution was that accused removed the bundle of notes from complainant's pocket when the latter was standing on the deck of a Shepherd steamer, which was about to sail for Karachi. Accused tried to run away with the notes, when a peon of Messrs. Shepherd Company raised a cry of "thief, thief," and drew the attention of the complainant and others to the man. A policeman followed the accused, and having seized him searched his person, and the notes were recovered. Mr. Kapadia pointed out the discrepancy in the evidence as to the notes having been found on the person of the accused. The magistrate admitted there was some discrepancy, but did not consider it was so material as to deter him from convicting the accused, who was sentenced to three months rigorous imprisonment.

CASE OF BIGAMY DISMISSED.—At the Mazagon Police Court, yesterday, Mr. E. Wilkin, acting Fourth Presidency Magistrate, disposed of the case, in which Ismail bin Jawan charged Fatmabee with bigamy and her father Shaik Ameer and one Abdul Kurreem with aiding and abetting her in the offence. Mr. Rustom B. Paymaster conducted the prosecution, while Mr. Sealy defended the accused. The accused Abdool Kurreem is a lascar on board one of the steamers running to England, having since the commencement of the case left Bombay with his ship, the magistrate issued a warrant for his arrest, and proceeded with the case against two of the accused. The complainant in his evidence stated that he married his wife Fatmabee four years ago, and that while the marriage was still subsisting, his father-in-law got his wife married to Abdul Kurreem, the absconding accused. In proving the first marriage Mr. Paymaster produced five witnesses, all of whom said that they were present at the first marriage, but omitted to state that they saw any of the ceremonies being performed, which, under the Mahomedan law were essential to the validity of a marriage. In proof of the second marriage two witnesses were called, both of whom said that they had seen the neeka ceremony. being performed, but in cross-examination they admitted that they did not see the ceremony personally, but they were told so. Mr. Sealy having addressed the court, the magistrate held that on the question of fact there was no evidence of the second marriage, and on the question of law, there was no evidence that there was any valid marriage. He therefore, discharged the accused.

ANOTHER ABORTIVE ABKARI PROSECUTION.—At the Mazagon Police Court, yesterday, Mr. Pallonji Cowasji, an abkari sub-inspector, charged Bhicoo Cassum, a Mahomedan tinman, residing at Null Bazaar, before Mr. E. Wilkin, acting Fourth Presidency Magistrate, with selling two pice worth of ganja, an intoxicating drug, without a license from the Collector of Abkari. On Monday afternoon, Mr. Pallonji, while on his round, at Dadur Road, saw accused sitting on the public road with a chillum and a pot by his side. The inspector's suspicions having been arroused, he called a policeman, and having marked two copper coins in his presence gave them to two abkari peons, with certain instructions, in consequence of which the two peons went to the accused, and the sub-inspector saw them sit down and smoke the chillum for about five minutes. Afterwards Mr. Pallonji, the policeman, and another abkari sub-inspector went to the spot, and on searching the person of the accused the marked coins, three chillums, and a tin pot were found with him. Accused pleaded not guilty and stated that he had nothing more to say. The magistrate, in disposing of the case, remarked that the witnesses for the prosecution entered into a plot to tempt the accused to sell ganja, and their evidence was therefore that of accomplices, and needed corroboration. The only corroboration sought to be adduced was the production of three chillums, an empty tin pot, and two marked pice, but the fact that they had been found on the accused, entirely depended on the evidence of accomplices, and even had this not been the case, the chillums and the pot would have been merely evidence of prosecution and not of sale. One very curious feature in the case was that not one of the witnesses spoke to the finding of any ganja on the accused. As the evidence of witnesses, who were all accomplices, was not supported by independent evidence, the Court acquitted the prisoner, and directed that the chillum, pice, and tin pot be returned to him.

HORSE-FLESH, ass-flesh, and even mule-flesh are now eaten in such large quantities in France that the regular butchers who deal in beef and mutton are getting uneasy. At a conference of the trade which is being held in Paris, one of the principal subjects for discussion was the manner in which the competition of the horse-butchers was to be met. In the result, a resolution was carried to the effect that horse-flesh, ass-flesh, and mule-flesh should be subjected to the same duties as those on other meats, in proportion, that is to say, to the selling value, and that dealers in horse-flesh should be forbidden to sell what may be designated as the staple articles of the butcher's trade. The Congress also expressed a unanimous opinion in opposition to the special military butcher's stores, their view being that the supply of meat should be left to private enterprise. With regard to the trade in preserved meats for the use of the army, which was not lost sight of, the Government were called upon, in the interests of the French dealers (but not, of course, of the poor French taxpayers), not to give contracts to any foreign firms.

THE NATIVE PRESS.

THE SYSTEM OF MEDICAL EDUCATION IN THIS PRESIDENCY.

THE Indian Spectator remarks: Dr. K. N. Bahadurji's speech before the Provincial Conference, last week, full text of which was published by the dailies this week, dealt with an important public question with which the speaker may be allowed to have made himself thoroughly conversant. The system of medical education in this Presidency, and the employment of men educated under it, have not escaped public notice. But educated native gentlemen, like Dr. Bahadurji, are decidedly better qualified than the average lay writer, to pronounce upon their merits. We should like these to be discussed, in a popular form, so that the public might be able to make up their minds as to how to approach the authorities for such changes in the system as are urgently called for. That there is crying need for change, no one could deny, who has looked at the intentions of the founders of higher medical education, and the way in which the system attacked seems to have defeated those intentions From the point of view of science or humanity, the system in vogue could not well be more unsatisfactory. We may revert to the subject another time, hoping, meanwhile, that the whole subject of medical education in the Presidency may be discussed by qualified public critics, in a temperate, conciliatory manner, so as to make the necessary changes acceptable to the slow-moving official mind. It is time the spirit of monopoly that has grown round the system gave way to a more healthy attitude, more in sympathy with our times. Our medical department appears to be perhaps the most backward, owing mainly to this military monopoly to which we have referred; and in presence of which the Government is apparently helpless.

THE FOREST RESOLUTION OF THE INDIAN GOVERNMENT.

The Gujerati observes: The Forest resolution of the Indian Government contains a declaration of general principles to which it is not possible to take exception. The key-note of the resolution lies in subordinating purely revenue considerations to those of agricultural facilities and of the contentment and comfort of the cultivator. The agricultural needs and requirements and local conditions of the people are not identical in all places and the Provincial administrations are left to their own judgment and discretion in applying the principles as enunciated in the resolution. It is recognised that ignorant people need to be protected against their own improvidence, but that usages and customs of very long-standing should not be suddenly departed from. The pressure of population on land is yearly increasing and the resolution insists upon the importance of so carrying out the forest policy of Government as to relieve this pressure, when circumstances admit of such measures of relief. As we said above, the general policy laid down by the Supreme Government is sympathetic and statesmanlike. But as in the case of other general declarations of policy everything depends upon the attitude of the officers who are entrusted with the responsible duty of giving practical effect to them. If is, therefore, the duty of Provincial Administrations to enforce compliance with the spirit of the wise resolution issued by the Government of India.

A PUBLIC HALL AND A FREE LIBRARY.

Says the Indian Spectator: Bai Dinbai N. Petit has made substantial alterations in the conditions on which she offered Rs. 7½ lakhs to the Corporations for a Public Hall and a Free Library. She has waived altogether the condition as to the site, and would have no objection to any suitable site the Corporation may decide upon. As regards the terms on which the land is to be secured, she very properly observes that this is a matter to be settled by the Corporation with the Government. As to maintenance, she is unwilling to consent to any part of her gift to be set apart as an endowment fund. But she would be satisfied if the Corporation stipulate to spend not less than Rs. 12,000 per annum on the up-keep of the Hall and the Library. She was informed, says the lady, that a Public Hall and a Free Library are a great necessity in Bombay, and if so, she thinks she may rightly ask the Corporation to undertake the keep and maintenance of the Hall and the Library. According to her view, then, she is helping the Corporation to discharge a duty and an obligation. And here it is, that we believe that the difference of opinion lies between those who are for gratefully accepting the offer and those who think that the offer should be thankfully refused, unless no heavy attendant obligations are imposed by it on the Corporation. We believe it will not be doubted that a Public Hall and a Free Library would be of much use to Bombay, but it may be questioned if they are a necessity, and if it is the Corporation which is bound to provide for them, before the more peremptory works lying directly within the sphere of obligation on the Municipality have been completed. The Corporation has thus to solve a knotty question.

THE GOVERNOR'S TOUR.

The Indian Spectator writes: His Excellency the Governor's tour in Guzerat is over, and he is now bidding farewell to the Kathiawar Chiefs. He received everywhere a kindly welcome, in spite of the attempts that were made at Surat and elsewhere to secure a permanent injunction against Municipalities and District Boards spending public money in giving a suitable reception to him as to other distinguished visitors. Lord Harris referred to this in a speech of his at Ahmedabad, and said that if the law courts granted an injunction of the kind, he was ready to propose an amendment of the law, so as to expressly empower our Local Bodies to remain true to Eastern traditions and hospitably receive distinguished visitors. We hope the necessity for such legislation will not arise either on account of an unfavourable decision of the law courts, or on account of the extravagance in such matters of Local Bodies. As a matter of principle, Local Bodies are everywhere allowed to spend money in fittingly receiving distinguished visitors. The general public will not grudge the expenditure, so long as it is kept within reasonable bounds. These receptions are a matter of ordinary courtesy, often having more of form than of substance; and do not necessarily signify special honour and esteem by the general public, in spite of the partly representative constitution of our Local Bodies. There is thus an essential difference between receptions granted by the general public and by such semi-official public bodies as our Municipalities and District Boards. These considerations should, we think, suffice to show that it is a misdirection of the economical or political instinct to waste energy in trying to obtain temporary or permanent injunctions against a limited reception—expenditure by Local Bodies. Besides, it must not be forgotten that the head of the Administration is also a representative of the Queen-Empress.

The Gujarati discourses: There are at this moment pressing questions which demand the serious attention of Lord Harris. The music question yet remains unsettled. Enhanced assessments have created general dissatisfaction in the districts brought under the settlement operations. In the Thana and other districts people are bitterly complaining of the harsh working of stringent forest rules and regulations. The Provincial Service Rules have been universally condemned. The quality and constitution of the mofussil police stand in need of urgent improvement. There are also other matters which require to be looked into by the Bombay Government. Under these circumstances we do not know why Lord Harris has undertaken a lengthy tour through the Presidency. His Excellency's tour in the Deccan served no public end except rousing feelings of indignation and resentment at his Excellency's unfortunate utterances. His tour through Gujarat was fruitless, though not harmful. We must not also forget Lord Harris' declaration that if the present Municipal Act did not contain any provision enabling municipalities to spend money upon the reception of distinguished visitors, Government would be willing to remove this serious omission. The question that the public are asking is what has been the net result of Lord Harris' tour through the Deccan and Gujarat, and is it commensurate with the public time and money spent over it?

M. MIRMAN's position as a Deputy for Rheims and at the same time as a soldier in the ranks, presents some difficult questions for the consideration of constitutional lawyers. By French law, no man may hold two paid offices under Government. Now, M. Mirman, in addition to his salary of about 300*l*. a year as a Deputy is entitled to his soldier's pay amounting to the munificent sum of a halfpenny a day. It might appear at first sight that he could get over the difficulty by renouncing his claim to the halfpenny a day, but there is no precedent for this, and the difficulty is still more in his position as a soldier than in the pay he receives. While under one law he is compelled to serve in the army, under another he is not allowed, as a soldier, to sit in the Chamber of Deputies. He has no option in the matter, so that as the law stands it seems to require him to fulfil impossible conditions, notwithstanding the well-known French proverb to the effect that this is incumbent on no man. Even were the objections already stated waived, there would be another difficulty, for while no one may enter the Chamber of Deputies in soldier's uniform, no soldier may legally wear mufti.

THE WEATHER

OBSERVATIONS TAKEN AT 8 A.M. ON TUESDAY THE 20TH OF NOVEMBER, 1894

1. The barometric readings are all corrected to Calcutta standard and reduced to the same temperature 32° and also to the sea level.
2. The 2nd column under the head 'Wind' gives the average motion of the air in miles per hour during the past 24 hours, and is obtained by dividing the total number of miles of wind registered by an anemometer during the previous 24 hours by 24.
3. The temperatures given in the table are of the air in the shade or in a small shed with open sides and a thatched or straw roof. The maximum (max.) and minimum (min.) temperatures are the highest and lowest temperatures during the 24 hours preceding 8 a.m.

SUMMARY.

Pressure has decreased briskly at Delhi and Agra and moderately or slowly elsewhere. The distribution is somewhat irregular and the readings are nearly uniform. Winds are very variable in direction and the force has been moderate to light. Delhi reports a gale of wind. This morning the wind velocity was 12 miles an hour at Bombay and Bangalore. The maximum is 5° above the normal at Ajmere and Bhuj and the minimum 4° to 7° in excess at Masulipatam, Ajmere, Allahabad and Agra. The highest temperature in the shade was 92° at Bhuj and the lowest 48° at Jacobabad. Humidity has increased considerably at Bhuj, Sholapur, Ratnagiri, Belgaum and Madras, and the skies are cloudy to overcast in Mysore, the Madras Presidency and at Cawnpore, Karachi, Sholapur, Ratnagiri, Belgaum Goa and Karwar. Heavy rain has fallen at Negapatam (2·27"). The weather over the country lying to the northwards of Latitude 20" is in a rather unsettled condition and will probably become more or less cloudy. At or in the neighbourhood of Negapatam conditions are favourable for rain.

GROSS NEGLECT OF THE EYES IS THE MOST PRODIGAL OF ALL NEGLECT.
DR. A. MENIST'S
CELEBRATED PERFECT PEBBLE SPECTACLES & EYE GLASSES.

MESSRS. MARCKS & Company, Limited, are the only Representatives in India for Dr. MENIST, of AMSTERDAM and LONDON, whose Perfect Pebble Spectacles are so widely and favourably known throughout the country. The Eye is the most delicate organ of sense, and too great care and pains cannot be lavished on perfecting, to the utmost extent of our knowledge, those artificial aids which under certain ages are found to be indispensable to comfort. Spectacles may be obtained from us for Half the Price of DR. MENIST's, but when it becomes a question of economising a little money at the risk of injuring the sight, the economy is a very double one.

In DR. MENIST'S PERFECT PEBBLE SPECTACLES every detail has been most carefully studied. Not only does he use the purest natural Crystal or Pebble, which is infinitely better for the Eye than any artificial Glass, but cuts the Lenses in strict accordance with the latest improvements of Science, combined with a principle discovered by himself, which renders them quite unapproachable by those of any other maker. The frames, too, are the results of years of patient study and gradual improvement, leaving now little to be desired.

Each Eye most carefully examined and measured, and suitable Lenses supplied to remedy every defect in vision.

BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT TO
H. E. the VICEROY & GOVERNOR-GENL. of INDIA; GENERAL LORD ROBERTS; H. E. LORD WENLOCK, Governor of Madras.

THE term Optician has long been so recklessly misapplied that the meaning of it has become obscure; probably nine persons out of ten would define it as a spectacle-seller. In Europe the duty of the Optician is limited more strictly than it is in India, to merely giving mechanical effect to the Oculist's definitions, but out here it is essential that he should possess at least sufficient technical knowledge to enable him to define and correct the ordinary forms of ametropia himself. To keep an assortment of Spectacles, more or less tastefully arranged, for the customer to try on and select from, like a pair of boots, is obviously unscientific most people prefer to be measured even for boots, and how much more delicate a matter is the Eye.

At our Reception Rooms in the three Presidency towns perfect arrangements have been made for Testing the Sight, and we endeavour to visit the chief mofussil stations periodically for the same purpose. In the intervals the best advice we can offer to persons at a distance is to get a proper definition from a qualified medical man in case of need rather than select glass themselves haphazard. We can then prepare Spectacles that will correct any defects arising out of removeable conditions of the refraction.

The Bombay Gazette

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1894.

"NATIVE India and England" was the title of a somewhat remarkable address given by Mr. Theodore Beck, the Principal of the Mahomedan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh, to the Anjuman-i-Islam of London a few weeks ago. The address, which is reproduced in the current issue of the National Review, was mainly occupied with a consideration of an enquiry as to the sentiments the Natives of India in general, and Mahomedans in particular should entertain towards their Anglo-Indian neighbours. Mr. Beck has somewhat damaged an otherwise temperate paper by the extreme bitterness of his diatribes on the Congress movement, but this defect notwithstanding the address contains some sensible advice worthy of the careful attention both of Natives and of Anglo-Indians. He reminds the latter community that the charge that Englishmen are possessed of insular prejudices is often only too true. Many of us when travelling on the Continent give great offence by allowing it to be plainly seen that we regard our own customs as far superior to those of the people we see around us. Unimaginative in temperament John Bull feels uncomfortable when mixing in the society of others, and hence there is a marked tendency for Britons when abroad to keep to themselves. Our reserved attitude toward strangers is often mistaken for ill-nature. These characteristics of the British race seem intensified in India, where the differences of race and custom are so strongly marked. Beset, as they are, by crowds of applicants for place or favour, the officials are bound to exercise caution in the bestowal of their friendships, and are often insensibly led to adopt a brusque decisive manner. "The lower classes of Englishmen," we read, "finding themselves unexpectedly, by reason of their colour, persons of importance, adopt sometimes a haughty bearing calculated as they imagine to preserve this pre-eminence." This is the candid way in which Mr. Beck acknowledges the truth of the criticism passed upon many Anglo-Indians that they put on "side," but the remark might have been qualified by the observation that as a general rule the amount of "side" put on is in inverse ratio to the importance or position of the individual who takes this easy route for making himself look ridiculous. The less men of this class know of the Natives of the country the more inclined they are to despise them. Evil is wrought by want of thought as well as want of heart, and in this way, as Mr. Beck says, greater animosities are created than are sometimes caused by actual injustice. But while admitting all this, the Principal of the Aligarh College points out that the failings he has described are often grossly exaggerated. Some Anglo-Indians while expressing contempt or even dislike for Natives do so in a very superficial manner, and their kindly treatment of their Indian brethren shows that such sentiments have little or no actual existence in their minds.

The great need in India, in Mr. Beck's view, is a basis for social intercourse, some common interests to bring the two races together. But against such a common ground there are many obstacles not created by the British themselves, such as caste restrictions, the exclusion of women from social life, and ignorance of Western manners and customs. If however these difficulties could be overcome and freer social intercourse were established between Englishmen and the Natives, Mr. Beck thinks that "few things would do more for the progress of the country and the stability of the British Raj." Owing to the lack of such opportunities of intercourse many Natives believe the British much more unfriendly to them than they really are. Any exceptional instance of rudeness by an Anglo-Indian is talked of far and near, and looked on as a trustworthy revelation of English sentiment, while nothing whatever is said of the ninety and nine who have not gone astray from the paths of courtesy and kindness. In such of the rare cases which do occur "most of the complaints," says Mr. Beck, "arise out of the insolent behaviour of underbred Englishmen, and especially Eurasians, who are anxious to show on which side of their ancestry they set the most store." The Natives who make these complaints will perhaps be led to think of a proverb about living in glass houses by a delicate reminder that the treatment of the Hindus by the Pathan Emperors was not characterized by excess of leniency and that "the Mussulmans of Cashmere to-day, groaning under the yoke of Brahmin officials, envy their more fortunate country-men in British India." A tree is known by its fruits, and so Mr. Beck passes on from a consideration of what the British official is to what the British Government has done and is doing, regarding this as a sure test of the character of the men who are entrusted with the administration of affairs. Having first given to India the priceless blessings of internal peace and order the English rulers built up her material civilization. Next they set to work to educate the people in the spirit which animated Mountstuart Elphinstone when he declared that the duty of educating the Native must be carried out, even though it led to the overthrow of British rule. Mr. Beck challenges contradiction when he says that honesty and an active desire for the welfare of the people are the leading motives of most of the members of the Civil Service. Honest officials constitute a blessing which does not come to a nation as a matter of course, as anyone knows who has travelled in the United States, or who has been to China. The benevolence of the much abused civil servant is shown in a variety of ways. He administers the landed property of an orphan child with the invariable result that the debts are cleared off or reduced, and the owner on reaching manhood receives full charge of an estate which has increased in wealth during his minority. Ruinous agrarian quarrels between landlord and tenant are often prevented by the friendly intervention of the Collector of the District. Mr. Beck lays down the undeniable proposition that the growing wealth of the country and its intellectual advance are mainly due to the work done by Anglo-Indians. Apart altogether from the essential need for the English as arbitrators—or rather as peacemakers—between rival factions, India at her present stage requires British labour and the price she pays for it, though heavy is her truest economy. As this necessity exists it is the bounden duty of every inhabitant of British India to promote kindly feelings between the English and Native communities. An Imperial sentiment uniting all for the common good should be fostered; and, we should regard as anti-imperial "both the Englishman who sneers at the Native and the Native who exaggerates the defects of the Englishman."

Addressing an assembly of Mahomedans, it was only natural that Mr. Beck should seek to drive home these truths by adducing special reasons why those who are of the faith of Islam should hold aloof from a policy of Home Rule for India, which he declared would "not only be ineffective in obtaining its object, but would be disastrous in its results." He gives a significant illustration of a contention which has the support of so advanced a politician as the present Secretary of State—that the race in numerical majority would keep all the best places to themselves. The principals of colleges in the North-West Provinces were recently called on to nominate students for three posts of Deputy Collectorships. A howl of indignation was raised by the Bengali press because a majority of the nominees happened to be Mahomedans. In Bengal where one-third of the population are Mahomedans, sixty-six such posts have been given in the last decade by competitive examination and not one has been secured by a Mussalman. Hence the indignation of the Bengali Hindus that in this particular instance the appointment has not been given for mere "cram" alone. But the ability to learn by heart a text-book is no proof in itself of moral and physical fitness for posts requiring rectitude and impartiality. Mr. Beck computes that the plan of recruiting the Provincial Service by competitive examination alone, would reduce the number of Mahomedans in that service to five per cent. of the whole, while the transference of patronage from English to Hindu hands would sweep the Mahomedans out of the inferior posts, of which there are probably no less than fifty thousand. Parliamentary institutions for India would be altogether contrary to the Eastern ideal of good government—the rigorous exercise of authority by just, benevolent, and wise rulers. Having for centuries been accustomed to look above for the source of authority the people cannot suddenly change their habit of thought and conceive of it as springing from below. This is only one of the many deep-rooted Oriental beliefs which constitute impediments in the way of the acceptance of Congress principles by the mass of the people, so great that even the eloquence of a Nationalist M.P. will have little power to lessen them. In showing that the Mahomedans have everything to lose and nothing to gain by a root and branch change of the system of government, Mr. Beck is careful to urge moderation and calmness on those he addresses, and asks them to abstain from aggressiveness in their dealings with fellow-subjects of the Queen-Empress. They should be very careful not to offend the religious susceptibilities of Hindus and should be prepared to readily co-operate politically with such Hindus as support truly imperial sentiments, a "category," says Mr. Beck "including the best families and finest castes." He points out that common memories, mutual gratitude and devotion to one sovereign should cement the union that common interests render indispensable between Englishmen, Mahomedans, and Hindus. By birthright a British citizen, the Native of India, is entitled to feel a just pride in the splendid Empire to which he belongs, and it is the duty of his Anglo-Indian neighbours to foster in every legitimate way these Imperial sentiments.

LOVE should be a perfect circle embracing all mankind. This is the idea of the new woman, and this principle the new woman is asked to live up to in her attitude to man. While the women workers were conferring in Glasgow and affirming that it was foolish to pit women against men resulting in loss to them both, their more advanced sisters in London were listening to a Mrs. Hobson who declared that though the total extinction of man might be desirable, such was not yet a possibility, and meantime woman should both tolerate and educate him. At both the places however they seemed agreed it was necessary to educate man. Mrs. Hobson admitted that man as a sex was not unworthy, and he wanted dealing with diplomatically. Mrs. Mirrless at Glasgow declared that when every woman in the realm had learned when and where to smile, and where to frown, there might be hope that public opinion would tend not only to keep down the base in man but teach high thoughts and amiable words and courtliness, and the desire of fame, love, and truth, and all that made a man. Mrs. Hobson on the other hand would not be content with exercising a purifying influence on the life of man. They must reform him, and take out of his hands some of the power he now possessed. The opinions often expressed upon platforms were not those truly representative of the best of women; there was a want of a sense of humour and an exaggeration of sex prejudice, and, while this was so marked, men would not be inclined to extend the franchise or other privileges to those who demanded it. She indicated what she considered the many advantages that would follow if women obtained the suffrage and made the laws, and dealt with some aspects of the labour question, urging that married women should not be too eager for employment. A frank recognition of the different spheres of the sexes was necessary, but she would allow to a woman the right to choose between the married or the single life, and the former would find sufficient happiness in the home and education of children. But why she here brought in her declaration that love should be a perfect circle embracing all mankind it is not easy to detect, for it would surely be inconsistent with the happiness of home if such catholicity and liberality prevailed. One shudders at the thought. But Mrs. Hobson fortunately is more advanced than her sisters, and other members of the Pioneer Club when her lecture was delivered were not prepared to go anything like the lengths she would have led them. One of them, Miss Ward, contended that the present stand of the advanced woman was necessary. No abject race had ever raised itself without hard blows on each side. She was briefly supported by one or two ladies, but Miss Stewart Headlam brought these high-flyers down to mother earth, and told her hearers that she regarded the "new woman" as a sort of phantom, hardly worth Mrs. Hobson's amusing remarks. At the same time she considered that women should be more in earnest, and then men with a sense of justice would support them. As regards the "woman question," the conservatism of men was "simply appaling." There should be equal wages for equal work, and that would do away with much of the present feeling. It was a satisfaction to know that nowadays many cultured, enthusiastic, and intellectual women were wage-earners. Mrs. Mirrless at Glasgow acknowledged all this, but asked for a healthy public opinion on great questions especially affecting the well-being of women. While wishing well to every attempt made by women to avail themselves of the many opportunities now opened to them to obtain honourable and remunerative employment, she would warn them as to the evil results of women underselling men, and thereby rendering it impossible for men to marry and maintain a family. It is satisfactory to find that the shrieking sisterhood are not yet to have it all their own way, and that there are still left both in the north and south of Great Britain women of sound common-sense who recognise what a true woman's duties and aspirations should be.

THE Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces reports that he is still unable to characterise the work of the Court of Wards as satisfactory. The way in which debts due to the Court of Wards have, in several cases, been allowed to lapse by limitation, while in others large balances have remained for years unutilized, shows great laxity of supervision. The fact noticed by Colonel Thomas that several village headmen were ejected in Bilaspur on the mere report of an Assistant Manager and without adequate ground reflects badly on Government management, while the further fact that in several estates affairs have been allowed to drag on from year to year without any sustained effort at regular repayment of debt and without any proper scrutiny of the resources and financial outlook, is as surprising as it is deplorable. The Chief Commissioner, thereupon again points out that though Deputy Commissioners are primarily responsible for such instances of mismanagement, they could not have occurred if Commissioners had exercised a sufficient check over State budgets, and had maintained a systematic and thoughtful control over Court of Wards' work in their Divisions generally. Mr. Woodburn believes if work is to be well done it must be thoroughly supervised, and he indicates the directions in which supervision may be advantageously directed.

WE would draw the attention of our readers to the notice in our advertisement columns regarding the coming Saint Andrew's Dinner. It has often struck us as somewhat anomalous that Bombay, urbs prima in Indis, should not yearly celebrate this time-honoured institution as is done in nearly every other city in the East. So far as we can remember the last dinner held here was on the occasion of Lord Rosebery's visit in 1886. Since then the annual advent of Saint Andrew's day has been allowed to pass unnoticed. It cannot be for the want of Scotsmen as the city literally teems with them; but no one seems to have had energy enough to undertake the work which the organising of such an affair must entail. This year, however, we understand an energetic young Scotchman has set the ball a rolling and with such a representative Committee as has been formed success is certain. The Hon'ble Mr. W. R. Macdonell will occupy the chair. We would strongly advise every loyal and patriotic Scot, to lose no time, in responding to the honorary secretary's invitation, and if he has not already done so, secure his ticket forthwith for the Gatherin' o' the Clans.

SIR DINSHAW MANOCKJI PETIT, BARONET, has given a further donation of Rs. 300 towards the construction of the Sir Dinshaw Manockji Petit Poona Parsee Gymkhana in addition to his former contribution of Rs. 7,000.

THE week's season reports for the Central Provinces are summarised in the following general remarks:—Except for a fall of rain at the beginning of the week in Bilaspur, the weather has been clear and cold. Harvesting of early autumn crops and sowings of winter crops have proceeded rapidly. Less is now said about the damage caused by the rain of the previous week, but the damage to cotton in the Wardha district is said to amount to 6 annas. In Saugor the outturn of rice and millets is put at 10 annas. In Damoh there has been much damage to the juar and some to the rice. Relief-works have been closed. Prices of wheat and gram in Saugor continue at 12 and 19 seers respectively. In Damoh the prices of wheat and gram have risen and stand at 11 and 15 seers respectively. Imports of grain into Saugor amounted to 19,200 maunds and into Damoh 5,700 maunds.

ACCORDING to a Karachi paper, Lord Elgin, during his short stay at Karachi, distinctly created the impression that he is "capable, sagacious and prudent." Karachi must be a dangerous place for some people to go to remarks the Lahore paper if they can thus read at sight a visitor's inner qualities.

IT is reported from Milan that the whole Royal family of Itally delights in the practice of bicycling in the park. The King learned to keep his balance in the saddle after two hours' practice; Queen Margaret needed two days. The Prince of Naples is a passionate cyclist; the Count of Turin is the cleverest, and the Dukes of Aosta and Abruzzi are also eager followers of the sport. The Princess Letizia is also fond of it. A Milanese manufacturer of machines has presented the Crown Prince with a very elegant one, with ivory handles and adorned with the royal arms in gold.

WHEN VERDI returning from Paris, passed Turin, he was met at the station by a number of artists and musicians. Verdi expressed his thanks for their welcome and surprise that they had known the hour of his arrival, as he had used many stratagems to conceal it. He looked well wonderfully young, and said he was delighted with his reception in Paris.

A MUSICAL matinee took place at the Royal Opera House in Berlin the other day, for the benefit of the funds of the Emperor William Memorial church. A correspondent writes: The piece de resistance was the song "Sang an Aigir," composed by the Emperor. Their Majesties, accompanied by the parents of the Queen of Roumania, the Prince and Princess of Wied, attended the performance, and the Imperial composer was able to witness the tremendous applause of the audience, which ceased only after the song had been encored. The Prince of Wied who sat in the same box with the Emperor, rose and shook hands with his Majesty on congratulating him. He thus made himself the interpreter of the feelings of the audience. I need not enter into discussion of the musical value of the song as it will appear in print in all the capitals of Europe.

CONTROVERSY is (a Paris correspondent says) going on as to the right orthography of the Russian Emperor's Russian title—should it be Tsar or Czar? The word, some say, means the chief of a horde of barbarians, and is less expressive of sovereignty over many lands than that of Emperor. Other learned etymologists say that "Czar," like much else that is Russian, came from Byzantium, and is a contraction of Cæsar. The authorities for "Czar" are the Empress Catherine, who wrote herself down "Czarina," the Emperor Paul, the Duc de Richelieu (who created Odessa), Voltaire, and the Empress Marie Feodorowna, nee Princess of Wurtemburg.

MILITARY. AND NAVAL NOTES.

THB patents iftken oat by M. Euitene Turpin, whose mysteriote inventions* caased so much oxdtement a few months a ^ , have been commmiicated to* the pobllo by the French Minister of Commerce.. The first patent (says Beater's Paris correspondent) has bron taken on behalf of M. TnrpIn by MM. Gaathelr de Cardane and Legrange, and is described as A New System of Material of War* styled Eugene Tarpin's Terminator or:Artillery System/' The patent was delivered on *the 28M aft.^Mid the documents bearing apon it number twenty-three pages. Including seven plates. The aeeond patent is described as " A New System of Proleetlles.'styled gyroscopic projectiles. In this ease th ^ e are sixteen pages of dis^ption includixig thirteen plates. The Soir publishes a long statement ^ M. Turpin on the subject of his latest inventions. Prom this ft appears that the first invention is a iJght cannon* which is capable of throwing sixty-seven projectiles, weighing five kil<^rammes each, a distance of 3,000 metres at a single discharge. It can also spread 33,500 missiles over a space of 30,000 square metres, at a distance of 700 meters from the point of explosion. The second •invention consists in a projectile or shell to be exploded In mid-air, its objeot' being to pour down a volley upon war vessels* ports, troops, &c.

 I had occasional opportunity of personally scrut-'nising-amall'bodies of Chinese troops,'* says a miU-taw writer*'Who contributes a very readable paper ^"Blackwood's Magazine.' " Tbeir arms were of vari PUS patterns possessing a nniformity only of such dirt* rust, and deficiency as to lead to the suspicion that one-half were incapable of being fired* while their equipment and marching, their drill and demeanour were suggestive of a show at a transpontine panto mhne. Captain Butler, superintendent of the Ijnng JSwa powder-factory, a Prussian Officer free from Prussian arrogince, informed me that the Chinese Government having heard of the efficiency of Ger-additional duty, the drilling of an infantry battalioD*and the following was the gist of bis statement to me:— explained, but without the slightest success that the undertaking would be a waste of their money and my time. As soon as I appear within the fort, the mandrain colonel and bis officers—at oil times thoroughly idle—swagger ofi'with offended dignity. The non-commissioned officers squat on tbg ground and go to sleep.unless I constantly bully them. I make it a point of principle never to allow any of the men to be thrashed except by myself. But the necessity for this operation is so frequent that a great part os niy time is spent in bambooing the seargeantc, and the balance available for drill ia.small/ He added that one of the greatest impediments to their efficient fieid-firing was their incurable habit of shutiiog both eyes just before pulling the trigger. Moreover, their rilies were kept in so filthy a condition that a large proportion of the locks became jammed* and the delivery of fire was habitually doubtful.*

Admiral Sir G^ Hornby discusses in the " United Service Magazine " the naval battle between China and Japan in the Yalu estuary, and comes to the --^^cluslon that it was not so much the difference of weapons as the different way of using them that decided the fights. Little was beard of the use of the ram or the torpedo. It seemed to have been chiefiy a gun fight, and the  bow-and-arrow " men woula be much elated. But, adds Admiral Hornby, as a disciple of Thegetboff, I beg to point out that the Chih Yuen went full speed at at a Japanese eraser. The latter received a slanting blow which ripped her up below the water-line, and she founde i^. The Chih Yuen was so injured by the cruieer's gun and the effect of the collision that she also sank. There is nothing here to detract from the credit of the ram. It was effective. The wrench it gave bad to be combined with the grave injury effected by guns to sink the striker. It must be handled deftly, and by expert men such as Thegetboff and Baron Petz'. It is the best man that wins. First the man who sees best where the ship is wanted* and can get her there ; next the crew who are most apt in the use of their various weapons.

W B bear from New York, says the Fall Mall Gazette, that the United States armoured cruiser Maine has come successfully through her trials. As this vessel was launched in 1890 she certainly has not befin completed with undue haste. Though nominally a cruiser, she is in many respects as formidable as many battleships, having a complete armoured * belt, and carrying four 10 inch guns mounted in pairs in armoured turrets* disposed diaflfihally. the fore-turret in rear of the forecastle on the starboard side, the after-turret being on the sort side jnbt in front of the poop. This arrangei^n t appears to considerably restrict the field of fire, as the guns in the fore-turret would unable to tire right ahead* nor would the after guns be able to fire right astern. A similar faulty arrangement is to be found in the Brazilian turret-ship Biachuelo, in our Inflexible, Colossus and Edinburgh, and to a less extent in the Chinese Ting Yuen and Chen Yuen. The Maine, which has a displacement of G,682 tons, attained a speed of 17-8 knots with forced draught.

Apropos of gun accidents, of which we have had so many of late, a writer in theFigaro,iu some interesting details of Napoleon's exploits as a sportsman, relates that he was terrible to his friends by the covert-side as be was to bis enemies in the field. Once, shooting with Berthier and Massena, his Majesty raked the line snd shot Massena in the eye.  Ha Berthiar ! " with immense readiness exclaimed Napoleon, you have shot Massena. Berthier denied, the Emperor insisted, and the poor Marshall gave in. Massena lost an eye, but next day he received a note : Cousin, as soon as your health will permit you will set out to take the command of the Army of Portugal—(Mfgnedl Napoleon. Wbat a devil of a man be is ! cried Massena,  be must always throw powder in one's eyes. It seems that Napoleon was not only fond of the chase—stag hunting, for which the meute w'as composed of foxhounds—tut of shooting, though he was a very bad as well as dangerous shot. He used light pieces with short barrels, which belonged to Louis XVI., and had them so heavily charged that his hands and shoulders suffered severely. He restored the game laws and regulated the chase, originated the license to carry arms and to shoot game, and loved to follow' the grand hunting traditkms of the old Court, and he restored the old offices of the 'Venerie Royale, and created others to give eclat to bis parties, even prescribing the rich green-and TOld costumes which were worn by men and women mvited to them, and tbeve were revived at Fontainebleau and Gompiegne by his nephew, Napoleon III.

It will have been noticed that the two senior subalterns of theWest India Regiment have recently b^en passed over for their companies. The reason for their supersession is, it is said, that they.have not qualified. One of then], however, has passed in three of the four subjects and is about to undergo examination in the remaining one. Now it seems to us that these two officers have been very hardly used. It has always to be remembered that the officers of the West India Regiment labour under great disadvantages. They serve for the most part in unhealthy climates, where study is frequently out of the question. Then, again, they come home on leave —from the West Coast of Africa certainly— in a condition of health which precludes the possibility of their going up for examination at once. In none of the stations at which they do duty is there any prospect*of their obtaining the assistance of a garrison instructor. These are considerations which ought to tell in their favour, but if, as is stated, the two superseded officers have nothing against them, but their non-possession of the full certificate they clearly have a cause of grievance, and some steps ought ttf be taken to put them right. We could scarcely briug ourselves to believe that failure to pass in one subject would have been ruled to be a bar to the promotion of an officer in all the circumstances had the information not reached us from a sympathising coarespondent, who says: The case is such a cruel one, and may prove so prejudicial to the professiooal prospects of a couple of good soldiers with absolutely nothing against them, that it is only right thAt the fact should be made known, so that doubts may be removed as to the real cause of the supersession. We gladly call attention to this matter, for we quite recognise the stroog claims of the officers of the West India Regiment to special consideration, seeing the peculiar nature of their service and the difficulties which are placed in their way,even when they apply to be permitted to prepare for examination.

It is well known that secret agents play an important part In H u s^n policy. We have seen numberless Instances in roe past of the cunningly-devised means by which Russia w'orks towards her ends, but we are too ready to forget or disregard them. British soldiers have never taken kindly to espionage, although it is often alsolutely necessary to success, and nearly always places valuable information at the disposal of a commander. Tbe time seems, however, to have arrived when it will be no longer possible to treat this matter in a casual manner, or to exclude it from a place among subjects of systematic study, A Russian staff officer has published a work in which the science and art of obtaining information secretly are elaborated set forth for the benefit of bis brother officers. Espionage is regarded by this author as a lesitimate means of increasing the power of an army. It is the development of an Intelligence Department In the provinces of detection and dissimulation, and if knowledge Is power, there is something to be said in favour of hjs contention. " The eyes and ears of an army can thus be materially assisted. What we have to guard against at this moment is the insidious work of Russian agents on and within our frontiers in the East. Whether officers should be put through a coarse of espionage we will not venture to say positively, but they should certainly learn the sportament's habit of marking his country, and of keenly observing and intelligent-7 interpreting airthe signs by which they are isur* ^rounded.

"Newton Abbot, Devon,
"1st October, 1893.

"Dear Sirs,
"I have delayed my thanks as I wished to test the effects of Blair's Pills by a sufficient interval of time.

"For ten years I had suffered acutely from Gout, and life had lost its attraction, owing to the uncertainty of health, and the sudden visitations of the enemy, which prostrated me for months or weeks, according to the virulence of the attacks.

"Blair's Pills have rendered me immense service, as I no longer fear an attack of Gout.

"If taken exactly according to your directions upon the first insidious symptom, without any delay, the enemy is invariably conquered before it has obtained sufficient hold of the system to become formidable.

"For the last twenty months I have been comparatively free, as one or two attempted visitations have been immediately stamped out by the assistance of Blair's Pills. "Truly yours,

"(Signed), Saml. W. Baker."

The Question of feeding infants deprived of Mother's Milk demands careful consideration, as on its successful solution depend to a large extent the subsequent Health and Happiness of the child. Most of the Patent Foods for Infants have grave defects, such as: (1.)—The presence of Starch, which the infant cannot digest, and consequently starchy foods do not nourish, but give rise to Diarrhœa, Sickness and Wasting. (2.)—The use of Cow's Milk, which, without modification, is quite unsuited for infant feeding, as it differs in composition and digestibility from the infant's natural food. (3.)—The employment of Cane Sugar as a preservative. This is liable to sour on the stomach and cause indigestion and vomiting. The above defects are completely avoided in Carnrick's Soluble Food.

This is a Milk-Wheat Food, absolutely free from Starch, which has been converted into digestible and nourishing food—Dextrine and Maltose. The Milk is partly peptonized or pre-digested, and Carnrick's Soluble Food is a complete Food that is prepared for use with water only, and furnishes the appropriate nourishment for the building up and sustenance of the infant organism.

The following letter has been received from the Secretary of the "Carlton" Club :—

CARLTON
RICHD. MATHEWS & Co's
TRADE MARK WHISKEY

Messrs. R. Mathews & Company. Carlton Club, Dec. 20, 1875.

Gentlemen,—In reply to your enquiry as to whether the Whiskey you are supplying to this Club is approved by the Members, the best answer I can give is that the consumption of this Whiskey in the Club has GREATLY INCREASED since it has been supplied by your firm. There can be no doubt whatever about the Whiskey being MOST EXCELLENT. It is Old and Soft, and I may safely say that it is much approved by the Members

Yours obediently,
W. Griffin Sutton, Secretary.

CAUTION.—It has come to the knowledge of the shippers of the "CARLTON" WHISKIES, that the empty Bottles have been dishonestly refilled with the poisonous trash very often sold in India under the name of WHISKEY; this is therefore to caution consumers to Carefully Examine the Corks and Capsules to see they have not been tampered with; also that the Corks, Capsules and Labels are branded with their Trade Mark.

Sold Everywhere. Wholesale of all Wholesale Houses,

It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease.
